MEMORANDUM FOR: ALEX BUTTERFIELD

FROM: DWIGHT L. CHAPIN

RE: November 3, 1969 - Public Approval - President's Speech

Per our phone conversation this morning, I want to reiterate the thought concerning the public reaction to the President's Address on Vietnam.

On November 4 and 5, Western Union should run newspaper ads across the country. These ads should say in effect - - "Let our President and Congress know how you feel. For sixty cents you can send a fifty word Western Union telegram to the President or any member of Congress." I think Western Union would do this as a public service campaign.

Also, they might go as far as to consider buying network time right after the President's address to put on a Western Union commercial saying what the newspaper ads would say.

This would be a sentimental way to get a good response.

The President and Chairman of the Board of Western Union Telegraph Company is Russell Whitney McFall. From 1945-1957, he was with the General Electric Company and from 1957 to 1963, he was with Litton Industries. It might be that he could be approached on this thought through Fred Borch of General Electric or through Roy Ash. He has his office here in Washington.

Hobart Lewis thought you might like the following quote from Churchill tonight --

Churchill quotation -- April 27, 1941:

'In their mortal terror the Greeks turned to us for succor. Strained as were our own resources, we could not say them nay. By solemn guarantee given before the war, Great Britain had promised them her help. They declared they would fight for their native soil even if none of their neighbors made common cause with them, and even if we left them to their fight. But we could not do that. There are rules against that kind of thinking and to break those rules would be fatal to the honor of the British Empire without which we could neither hope nor deserve to win this hard war.'

Dear Abbott:

My apologies for the long delayed reply to your excellent letter of October 15 with the draft policy statement by your Committee. Sometime ago I passed that excellent statement on to those in the White House dealing with our efforts regarding support for the President's policy and specifically the November 3rd speech. I was delighted to read the final report when it was made public recently. Congratulations on a strong and effective statement.

Of course I am most interested in these matters; my portfolio is essentially domestic, though I am always willing to be helpful where I can, I do think you'll get a more specific and more prompt response from Henry Kissinger.

I believe the President knows that Chuck Percy very strongly and effectively supported the President's Vietnam position on the "Today Show" this morning. I suggest a telephone call to thank the Senator. Percy offered to do this even before he knew what the President would say.

We expect today some 40 to 50 of our people to praise the President's position -- and to counter criticisms -- on the House Floor. Also, Congressman Jim Wright's resolution sponsored by 50 Democrats and 50 Republicans -- a resolution very strongly supporting the President's position -- will be moved forward. The Speaker and Jerry Ford are behind it, and we approved the language of this measure. There could have been many more sponsors, but for the bipartisan value, it was limited to 100 sponsors evenly divided.

Bob Dole is busy organizing supporting statements in the Senate, and Bobby Griffin and Carl Curtis are also at work. Copies of suggested statements have been furnished to them all.

Congressman Ed Edmundson of Oklahoma called me at home last night utterly delighted with the address. This morning, Harsha, Findley and Kuykendall have called with the same message. Les Arends is delighted with it. As far as we can tell, the speech is very well received by all but the hard-line doves.

I have asked Herb Klein's pffice to prepare an analysis of the criticisms. My hope is that we can get solid answers prepared and used before the day is out.
