

508[01 erican

Largest Morning Circulatio

TELEPHONE 426-3000

THURSDAY, JUNE 1 1974 52 PAGES

LATE

FIFTEEN CENTS

Honors Lavished on President and Pat

A TRULY TUMULTUOUS WELCOME - PRESIDENT RICHARD NIXON AND PE DENT ANWAR SADAT WAVE BACK AS CHEERING THOUSANDS AS MOTORCADE PROCEEDS THROUGH DOWNTOWN CARRO

White House Turnabout Gives Go-Ahoad to Fhrlichman Trial

> President Anwar Sadat later gave him the nation's highest honor and feted him with a lavish banonet in the gardens of Emphiscalest gave President Nixon the biggest welcome of his (UPI)-Two million dancing, yesterday. Egyptians

By KIM WILLENSON

Information

Wing.

parently had been prepared to start contempt pro-

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell, who ap

Had Active Role in Second Cover-Up Memos Say Nixon

By JAMES M NAUGHTON

(C) New York Times News Service

this morning to work out details.

develop a second Watergate cover-up plan when the Nixon took an active part last year in attempts to first one went awry. impeachment inquiry have concluded that President pared for some Democratic members of the House WASHINGTON - Confidential memorandums pre-scandal from touching the White House. scandal in March and April of last year by counsuclose associates to seek new ways to prevent According to the memorandums, drafted by a member of the House Judiciary Committee staff, the President reacted to disclosures of the Watergate part on Judiciary Committee transcripts containing sections of taped White House conversation that were omitted from the edited transcripts made public on April 30 by Nixon. The staff analyses, two of which were obtained yesterday by the New York Times, were based in

(Continued on Page Fifteen)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Little League officials amounced yesterday that they will "defer to the changing social climate" and ask Congress to change the league's charter to allow girls to play in the program.

Black Caucus Seen In Bus Law 'Deal'

Caucus reportedly agreed to support repeal of the Racial Imbalance Law if a unique alternative is The school integration controversy took a dra-matic turn yesterday when the Legislature's Black accepted, it was learned last night cation take control of racially imbalanced schools and that at agreement be made to hire some 600 more ser-white teachers in Boston and 1500 throughout the state, according to a reliable source. The caucus proposed that the state Board of Edu-

(Cont. on Page Fifty-one)

Commentary

He said it now seems that Ehrlichman can still be tried with his three remaining codelendants, though the trial may have to be delayed a few days beyond its scheduled starting date of next Monday. He sum-moned lawyers to his chambers for a conference ceedings if necessary to wrest the material from Pres-ident Nixon's control, said the "substantial change" in the White House position had eased the looming No Nasty Signs No Booing and What a Day! By BOB CONSIDINE

(Hearst Handline Service)

two million people in an open car from the airport to Kubbeh Palace where he and Pat will stay while here, and did not hear a single boo. There wasn't a protester along the parade route. Nobody carried a sign reading "Impeach Nixon," or "Pay Your Taxes," or "Resign." his recent life yesterday. He rode past about CAIRO-President Nixon had the shock of

Also awaiting trial on charges stemming from the 1971 burglary at the office of Daniel Elisberg's psychiatrist are G. Gordon Liddy, Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio R. Martinez, all convicted last year for the Watergate bugging.

(Continued on Page Fifteen)

through human palisades, under a sun t pushed temperatures beyond 90 degrees, v the greatest reception of his life. It was beyond the modest lumuit he aroused on The nearly one-hour ride into the

(Continued on Page Two)

Tells the Girls:

Play Ball!

Little League

of the day for him and said that through all historic day we have spent with you here that will stay more in our memory than this his foreign travels "I can think of no day In his toast, Nixon dwelled on the glories banquet for 600 guests. rugs and red, white and blue lights for a of King Farouk's old palace with Oriental arrival, then decorated the enormous gardens American flags and portraits of Nixon for the Sadat had covered Cairo with thousands of thronged streets from the airport. danced in the street, pushed against police side by side in an open limousine through "Nix-on, Nix-on" as Nixon and Sadat rode lines, waved oleander branches and chanted Bronzed Arabs in flowing white

Before the dinner, Sadat presented Nixon with Egypt's highest award—the Grand Collar of the Nile—in the name of the Egyptian people "in recognition for the role he has people "in recognition for the role he has assumed" in building peace in the Middle engagements, the Color of the Republic. Medal of Al Kemal (Perfection), and pre-sented Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who negotiated both of the Arab-Israeli dis-Sadat also gave Mrs. Nixon the studded Medal of Al Kemal (Perfection), and pre-

(Continued on Page Two)

In Well-Backed Senate Resolve Kissinger's 'Veracity' Proclaimed

By STEVE GERSTEI

er Mike Mansfield strong backing in the Senate yesterday, including the endorsement of Democratic Leading Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's "integrity and veracity" above reproach won WASHINGTON (UPI) - A resolution call-

Austria, that he would resign unless "some responsible forum" cleared his name of allegations that he ordered taps placed on the telephones of some aides and members of the

Kissinger told a news conference in Salzburg,

The Senate resolution was introduced by Sen. James B. Allen (D-Ala.) in midafternoon and quickly picked up more than 40 co-spon

(Cont. on Page Twenty-one)

news media in 1969.

the trusteeship of the Little League Founda-tion said its action was effective immedi-The announcement from the board of di-rectors of Little League Baseball, Inc., and

But the House Indiciary Committee turned down a proposal by one of its Republican members for a public hearing today to de-clare its confidence in Kissinger.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter Ro-dino (D-N.J.), rubel out of order a motion by Rep. Joseph Magrati (R.N.J.) to hold the hearing, claiming the committee lacked juris-diction to pass judgment on Klasinger.

the position that it would be imprudent for

(Cont. on Page Twenty-one)

The statement said "the board has taken and the trusteeship that acceptance and screening of young girls, following registration procedures, should be adjudged by the local league organizations and not by the

"It is the unanimous view of the board

international body," the statement said

The Capitol H "ction came a day after the one that 1973 and early h

Clean Air A have reco

defeat, the White House Office of Management and Budget and the FEO

anally (

not more dain to paths we verted from oil or gas to coal. Because the bill, pe. it 令

A POINT OF VIEW - The threat of ing. Editorial on Page 12. wolf pack to create a crisis out of nothforcefulness the ability of the Watergate resign dramatizes with breathtaking Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to

Action Line

Considine
Cross Clue
Crossword
Cryptoquote
Dear Abby 22353

Minor 13
Norten 22
Porter 22
Post Position 50
Roche 12
Society 23
Sports 41-44
Theaters 22-4
TV-Radio 10
This Day 29 View From

Deaths
Dobbins
Editorial Financial

ttal Protection Agency to grant an extension until 1978. It would also relax

$500 Popper -- Page 37 LUCKY LUSET GUILLE

• ELLIOT NORTON - Harold Clur man's "The Divine Pastime" will provide enjoyable reading for anyone with a serious interest in the contemporary theater,

LaCAMERA - Loyal fans of Chanadvises drama critic Elliot Nornel 2's Masterpiece Theater, writes Anthony LaCamera, would be happy to learn that the British-produced PBG series, includ-ing Emmy-winning Upstairs, Downstairs, is coming back next

Win 5-3---Page 41 Sox Sweep A's,

HARVARD — Despite gray skies and the threat of rain, Harvard grads from the classes of 1900 to 1973 took part in Alumni Day. est living alumnus, returned give his thoughts. Page Arthur Drinkwater, 95, the old-

Index

Mayer 23 Medicare 47 Mind Mirror 26

.

WICHINGTON - The Sangle an

(C) NEW YORR TIMES NEWS SERVICE

ion Controls

be con-

finally of the Public ed the and the e coal esident

Iming rumors

Agency did believe that, following this defeat, the White House Office of Management and Budget and the FEO would mount a campaign, similar to the one that was unsuccessful in late 1973 and early this year, to amend the Clean Air Act of 1970. Both agencies have regarded the air quality standards and emission limitations under that act as too severe,
What the administration wanted, as a result of the energy crisis late last year, was a bill authorizing the federal government to conserve oil and gas by ordering power plants fired by those

surance Plan

more health urance

se for der the al

at ip

plan spelled out in highly technical tanguage in a 40-page document will have income tax breaks reduced.

Sen. Daniel J. Foley Worchester), chairman of the Legislative Insurance Committee who carried the bill, said virtually nothing about the measure on the floor of the

After initial approval had been given, however, Foley stepped over to the press section and told reporters;

"The welfare department's Medicaid program will be transferred to private insurance companies in Massachusetts under a pool arrange-

"We are now spending for medical services in the welfare department $450 million a year. There are 500,000 persons receiving medical assistance coverage. This averages out to a per person cost annually of $900.

"Under the Commonwealth plan these same people will be able to obtain better coverage at annual cost to the taxpayer of $680 and this will reflect a savings of $110 million.

Rowland, however, did not agree totally with Foley. He said, "The plan promises a lot but it is doubtful that $110 million could be saved on the Medica'd program through private

THEY CAME TO CHEER NIXON-President Nixon stands in open car with Egyptian President Sadat as motorcade takes him from Cairo airport to Kubbah Palace. In right background, youth views the welcome from atop a traffic light from the best seat in town.

AP Photo

Two Million Egyptians Hail Nixon

(Continued from Page One)

Nixon was exuberant from the tumultous welcome, historic in terms of size and warmth

At times during the motorcade, the city of Cairo appeared to be carpeted with frenzied humanity. At no point were the streets deserted, and crowds six or seven deep lined most of the

EVERYONE RAISED hands to wave flags or flowers, some jumped, some danced, some pushed forward reaching for the car as if they felt an emotional need to touch it.

But amidst the galety of the sumptuous banquet after what Nixon decribed as one of the most memorable days of his life, Sadat injected a note of warning that the problems of the area are by no means solved.

Under the light-clustered palms Sadat cautioned that a solution to the Palestinian issue is "indispensable to the attainment of a just and durable peace." Referring to the Arabs who were displaced when Palestine was set aside

"THE POLITICAL solution and the respect of the national aspiration of the Palestinians are the crux of the whole problem. Its solution is indispensable for the attainment of a just and durable peace."

Referring to the Palestinian problems mentioned by Sadat, Nixon said he did not come to Cairo "with readymade solutions for these complex problems, some of which are going to require a great deal of dedicated diplomacy on the part of all parties concerned in order to find a just and equitable solution."

"However, I do say, Mr. President," Nixon added, "the United States will play a positive role (in the search for a just peace.) We in America want to be friends with this nation."

Nixon and Sadat had exchanged formal greetings on the balcony of Koubbeh Palace shortly after President's arrival. The two leaders pledged continuing efforts to erase what they called the years of misunderstanding which have separated the the hope that the two countries would work together in the goal of peace

Sadat, in return, said the Middle East disengagements had been achieved because of the "efforts of the United States under your leadership and wise guidance."

"I have never seen anything like, it," Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told reporters. "It is the largest and most dramatic and most spontaneous (welcome) Nixon has ever received during his years in office.'

The spontaneity could have been questioned by those who watched pre-parations for the greeting, which included bringing in up to 100,000 cheerleaders to rehearse the crowds in chanting Nixon's name.

BUT ZIEGLER said Sadat told Nixon, "it is only when they feel it in their hearts they cheer like this."

Cairo has a population of 4.5 million, and the estimate that two million had turned out for the motor cade was furnished by Egyptian security officials. They provided 30.000 of their own security officers to sup-